ALL SAINTS SUNDAY

Just as the Father is never ignorant of the Son, nor the Son of the Father, just so neither are the saints. They are become gods by adoption through having God indwelling them. They can never be ignorant of each other, but shall look on one another and on each one's glory, like the Son the Father's glory and the Father on the Son's. What then shall be the glory of the saints? It will be like the Son of God's. The latter Himself points out this very truth most clearly when He says: 'The glory which You have given Me I have given to them, that they may be one even as We are one' (Jn. 17:22).

St. Symeon the New Theologian, On the Mystical Life

The Lives of the Saints are holy testimonies of the miraculous power of our Lord Jesus Christ. In reality they are the testimonies of the Acts of the Apostles, only continued throughout the ages. The saints are nothing other than holy witnesses, like the Holy Apostles, who were the first witnesses - of what?, of the God-man Jesus Christ: of Him crucified, resurrected, ascended into heaven and eternally alive;...

Fr. (St.) Justin Popovich, Orthodox Faith and Life in Christ

The lives and praises of the saints are like the stars in brilliance. Because of their number, we do not know the names of all the saints; still, they amaze us by their radiant majesty, as do the stars, which while fixed in their position in the heavens, illumine all that is below, being seen by the Indians, yet not concealed from the Scythians, shining upon the land and guiding by their light those at sea. Similarly, the radiance of the saints, though their relics be entombed in sepulchers, is not bounded by the ends of this earth here below. Therefore, we marvel at their lives and are amazed at how God has glorified them that please Him.

St. Dimitry of Rostov, The Great Collection of The Lives of the Saints, Vol. 1

~::~ THE SUNDAY OF ALL SAINTS ~::~

The idea of observing ALL SAINTS SUNDAY one week after the coming of the Holy Spirit is a striking one, for this day reveals the HARVEST of what happened on Pentecost. From weakness, men, women and children were made strong in faith, enabling them to endure all things for our Lord.

Early Christians, witnessing the sufferings and saintly lives of followers of Jesus, felt that their memories should be perpetuated. Their intercession should be called upon for those struggling in the Christian life against temptation. Annual memorials were made with services over the graves of those who suffered and died for Christ. Should anything less than this be done?

And so the Church began to assign days for the commemoration of saints. With the passing centuries, the calendar became full of saint days, and in fact, more than one saint is commemorated on every day of the year.

In addition to these great heroes of the faith, there are countless martyrs and hierarchs, monks and missionaries, who left bold traces of their dedication to Christianity. Let us commemorate others, practically unknown, who lived out their lives in the "Way" of Christ. It is no wonder that the Church in her wisdom, set aside this Sunday for remembrance of All Saints. These are our HEROES for emulation. It was Apostle Paul that bid us to "lay aside every weight and sin that besets us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us."
